THE POLITICAL-FARMER.
He wants a billion dollars, sir, struck right off the green.
He wants a billion dollars quick, and not a copper less.
He wants to run his cabbage, his saters and his oats.
And other products of his farm, right into Treasury notes.
He wants to down monopolies and men who money loan.
And run the business so he'll have a big one of his own.
He wants a constitution that will give his kind a chance.
But doesn't want to work to get a new seat in his pants.
He wants to go to Washington to gnash his teeth and rail.
But doesn't want a button to replace the fatigue nail.
That fastens up his galluses; nor does he want the face.
Which proves he's not the only man who has to pay a tax.
To sum it up, this statesman wants—as others of his class—
The whole United States to be a monumental ass.

'SQUIRE' (?) BRADFORD'S WORK.

How Much Longer Will He Run the Marrying Machine at Aberdeen?

A LEXINGTON reporter yesterday called on 'Squire' (?) Harrison Bradford at his office in Aberdeen, who complacently stepped into the long worn matrimonial shoes of the late far-famed Massie Beasley.

Mr. Bradford was somewhat reluctant about conversing relative to the business in which he is at present engaged, simply saying "yes" when he was informed that the press of the whole country was questioning his legal authority, appearing to be indifferent as to the consequences which result from the union of those whom he purports to unite in legal marriage.

By the several different men who have been engaged in the business fully 12,000 couples have been united in the solemn bonds of marriage, being almost exclusively runaway parties, many of whom were too young to secure license.

Many a innocent, loving girl, snatched out of her teens, has been lured from the parental fold by wisely-sold tobacco and staid old matrimony, and many a life of misery, dejection and shame.

As we have been informed Mr. Bradford has no more authority to solemnize a marriage than a jackass, he not even being a Justice of the Peace. It is about time that the Ohio Legislature was taking some action in this matter! Surely the people will not remain indifferent much longer and allow this misery-producing machine to run for time immemorial, spreading the land.

Personally we have nothing to say about Mr. Bradford. Since he has been running the matrimonial machine he has done a land office business, having married more than seventy couples in four weeks, thus breaking the record of all his predecessors.

The sooner this thing is quashed the better it will be for the present generation as well as for the future ones.

The report of the recent encounter of Colonel W. J. Worthington, Dr. A. J. W. Sellards and J. J. Calvin of Greenup with a catamount, telegraphed to the Cincinnati papers and copied throughout this part of Kentucky, turns out to be as false as the Free-trade parody that the Tariff is a tax. WEATHER CROP BULLETIN.

Condition of the Small Crops Throughout Kentucky Up to Yesterday.

The average temperature of the week was about four degrees above the normal, and much more than the usual amount of sunshine resulted from the generally cloudless weather which prevailed.

No rain is reported, except light showers from the Eastern sections of the State. Apart from the heavy general rains of the 13th and 14th ult., there has been practically no precipitation of consequence in the State for more than a month. This fact has rendered the soil very dry and consequently unfit for plowing and seeding, which work has been greatly delayed. Fall pastures are as a rule very poor, owing to the same cause. The greatest present need of farmers is an abundant rainfall.

While the conditions described have been unfavorable to the work mentioned, they have greatly hastened the maturity of corn and tobacco. The former crop is now practically safe and much of it is already cut.

The prospects for tobacco have improved materially, and everything indicates a crop of the finest quality, though it is probable that the amount will fall short of the average. About three-fourths of it has been cut, and it is thought that at the latest the entire crop will be safely housed within the next ten days.

The lateness of the season may be the danger from frost greater, but the comparatively small portion of the crop now exposed, even if it is damaged cannot materially affect the general character of the yield.

INSANE FROM JOY.

A Young Lady Meets Her Young About Mother and Loves Her Much.

WYOMING, Pa., Oct. 6.—A story comes from the country of John Harvey was divorced from his wife twelve years ago. He at once went West, taking his five-year-old daughter with him. She was twelve years old at the time. She always expressed a desire to have her daughter with her. She wrote appealing letters for her divorced father to send her to reside at Ashley. Her mother was at the depot to meet her daughter. Overjoyed at meeting her mother the girl became violent insane. She would not leave her mother's side and with her mother would not apply to companies operated for profit. All the companies whose property was seized upon gave bond.

A DISASTER

In a Tunnel on the Louisville and Nashville Road.

The False Frame Work Falls Upon Unfortunate Workmen.

Twenty-Five Injured, Many Very Seriously—Fighting For Life in the Darkness of the Earth's Depths.

Two men were killed, and a third was seriously injured, when the false frame work of a tunnel on the Louisville and Nashville road collapsed last night.

As the result of the catastrophe the tunnel is blocked with fallen debris, and a rescue party is working to clear the debris and bring out the men.

Special trains from Louisville and Nashville brought physicians and surgeons, summoned to aid in caring for the wounded in the accident, and the neighboring farm houses were for the time converted into temporary hospitals.

So far the number of victims is estimated at twenty-five, though there may be more than that. In some cases three are fatal. Many of the victims are seriously injured, and the morning may see more dead men in the rooms of the sufferers.

The cause of the accident was the falling of the false work in the tunnel, which is being refitted. The contract for this work was assumed by H. H. Squire & Co., and about 150 men are employed in the task.

At 3:30 p. m. the men were engaged in setting up the timber frame work known as "centering" in order to permit the north-bound train, No. 6, to pass through in safety.

Just as this work was about to be completed, the framework suddenly gave way, carrying with it the men who were working among the timbers. The falling upon those who were below. The timbers composing the framework are of the heaviest kind, and every man that was struck was more or less seriously injured.

In an instant the tunnel became dark. The lights being extinguished by the falling of the frame work. In the darkness the men who were working to get free from the timbers that pinned them, the air being filled with the shrieks of the wounded and the cries of the dying.

Those who were not pinned down escaped the wreck at once proceeded to the outer air to procure relief, and above all to flag the approaching train, which was due within a few minutes after the occurrence of the accident.

Under the direction of Mr. Squire, the contractor, who was present at the time of the accident, but who escaped unhurt, the injured laborers at once began the work of rescue.

Several special trains were made up of the rescue party, and an engine and a locomotive of Conductor McDonald and Engineer Monahan, and he was fairly whisked, like a feather in a wind-storm, to the scene of the accident.

FAMILY WHITE-CAPPED

Because They Helped a Boycotted Neighbor.

MONTE, Ala., Oct. 6.—News was received here Wednesday, giving an account of the work of white-caps near Evergreen, Sunday night. John Shilley, a farmer, with his wife and three children, was taken out and severely whipped by eight masked men. Mrs. Shilley's right arm was broken, as was her husband's left shoulder blade. A son, aged 14, was so badly beaten that he is not expected to recover. The only excuse that can be offered for the outrageous treatment of these people is the fact he loaned aid to one of his neighbors who was boycotted because he refused to sell to the white-caps.

The Illinois National Guard Will No March at the Dedication.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The Illinois national guard will not participate in the parade at the dedication of the new World's fair buildings. Although the president of the United States will be the guest of Chicago not a single man of the guard is known to be going out to do him honor. The trouble arises over the refusal of the guard to march in the parade, and the World's fair directors to defray the transportation expenses of the troops. The Chicago regiments refuse to take out the march with them. They believe that Illinois should either have the largest military showing or none at all, and at a meeting of national guard officers it was decided to have none at all.

Carnegie Declares, in His of the Wealth.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Mr. Carnegie Wednesday laid the cornerstone of the Memorial library in Ayer which was presented to the city of Ayer by Mr. Carnegie. The latter was present also and was a general helper. The mayor of Ayer, Mr. Carnegie, said that the library was a fitting memorial to the man who had given so much to the world.

"I feel more strongly bound than ever to the cause of the poor, and my life to aim ending in less to self and more to others, using my surplus wealth and spare time in the manner which I deem best for the benefit of the masses of the people. From the masses comes the wealth which is entrusted to the owner only as administrator."

DEATH OF A FATHER.

DECATUR, Ga., Oct. 6.—The supreme court of Iowa has affirmed the Winnebago motor case. In May, 1890, an estate was left to the late John H. Goddard, a farmer of Iowa. Goddard had a son, John H. Goddard, who was a farmer and a land owner. The district court decided in Goddard's favor, holding that the motor case was part of the estate. The defense was that it was a motor and, being unclaimed by the landowner, belonged to the finder.

Caught in a trap, they were Wednesday shot down, but not until four citizens of this place yielded up their lives in the work of extermination. Six of the gang rode to town Wednesday morning and robbed the two banks of this place.
